Open Call for Artists and Artisans

21A East Main Street

Join the Mill Whistle Arts Group.

Richwood's Mill Whistle Arts Co-op has had a successful two years and is looking to take on more Artists. We have posted all our products online and offer online shopping as well as in store from Thursday – Sunday from 11-5.

Join our Artisan family on Main Street:

- We are taking only a small 10% commission from the sale of your merchandise for the promotional work to post items and handle in-store and online sales all year!
- We will sell your artwork Thursday-Friday in store as well as online and a check will be issued to you for the items you sold at the end of the month (minus the 10%).
- Submit an inventory of your artwork for sale at Richwood's Mill Whistle Arts Co-op and Heritage Center, along with digital pictures of your work so we can post them!
- Currently we are selling items online and in the store. Our clerks wear masks to ensure your safety as well as theirs.
- During festivals and events (once the danger of Covid-19 is over) we might call on our artisans to give additional time to staff the co-op so that it can be open all week as more customers can be expected.
- Contribute to #RichwoodRising by bringing your beautiful artwork to sell, attracting more shoppers to Main Street.
- Network with other artists. Mill Whistle Arts Gallery is a member of the Mountain Arts District. As a member, you automatically become a member of the Mountain Arts District and your work will be shared with the central and northern part of the state.

If interested, e-mail, call, or text me at 1-304-651-4259. This co-op takes very little commitment on your part and gives greater exposure to your work. Check us out at <http://richwoodchamberofcommerce.org>

Hope to hear from you soon!
